

The Commandment to Bless

Life is busy. The strain of our daily routines often keep us from focusing on God's kingdom; nevertheless, we still find time to eat. God commands us to bless Him when we eat. Every meal provides an opportunity to stop, take time out, acknowledge God and place words of Torah on our tongues and the path of discipleship back under our feet.

Come, join other disciples of Yeshua and consider the "Commandment to Bless." We will have a wonderful evening of learning Torah, considering examples from the life of the Master and discovering ancient Christian and Jewish traditions relating to blessing God before and after meals.

This seminar will be a fun, fast moving 90-minute meeting, focusing on the simple command to bless the Lord at mealtime. We'll sing songs, look at the biblical themes of the traditional prayers, consider the lessons of those prayers and discover a means by which to fulfill this commandment of God in a practical and delightful manner.

What to Expect:

Learn how Deuteronomy 8:10, "When you have eaten and are satisfied, you shall bless the Lord your God..." is:

- ✦ A way to keep kingdom-focused and Messiah-centered.
- ✦ Beautifully preserved by Jewish and ancient Christian traditions.
- ✦ See and hear the prayers of the first-century disciples of Yeshua.
- ✦ A reminder of salvation and the responsibilities of discipleship.

Based on the book, Breaking Bread, available now from First Fruits of Zion!

Call 1-800-775-4807 or order online at www.ffoz.org

Sherwood, AR
Sunday, August 24, 2008 | 3:00 pm

Location: Sherwood Bible Church
(Hosted by Simchat Torah Messianic Fellowship)
9650 Highway 107; Sherwood, AR 72120

Additional Info: Everyone is welcome to attend.
Finger foods and fellowship following seminar.

Contact: Jeff Crowell or
Darren Huckey
Phone: 501-529-4467 (Jeff),
501-339-8151 (Darren)

FREE ADMISSION

A FEAST OF GOD'S
TIMELESS TORAH TRUTHS!

